JUNIORS

A larger than average class, about evenly divided between boys and girls, the Juniors of 1956-57 took active parts in North Shore's Upper School activities. Intellectually and socially, the class has moved closer to the responsibilities it will have to assume next year.

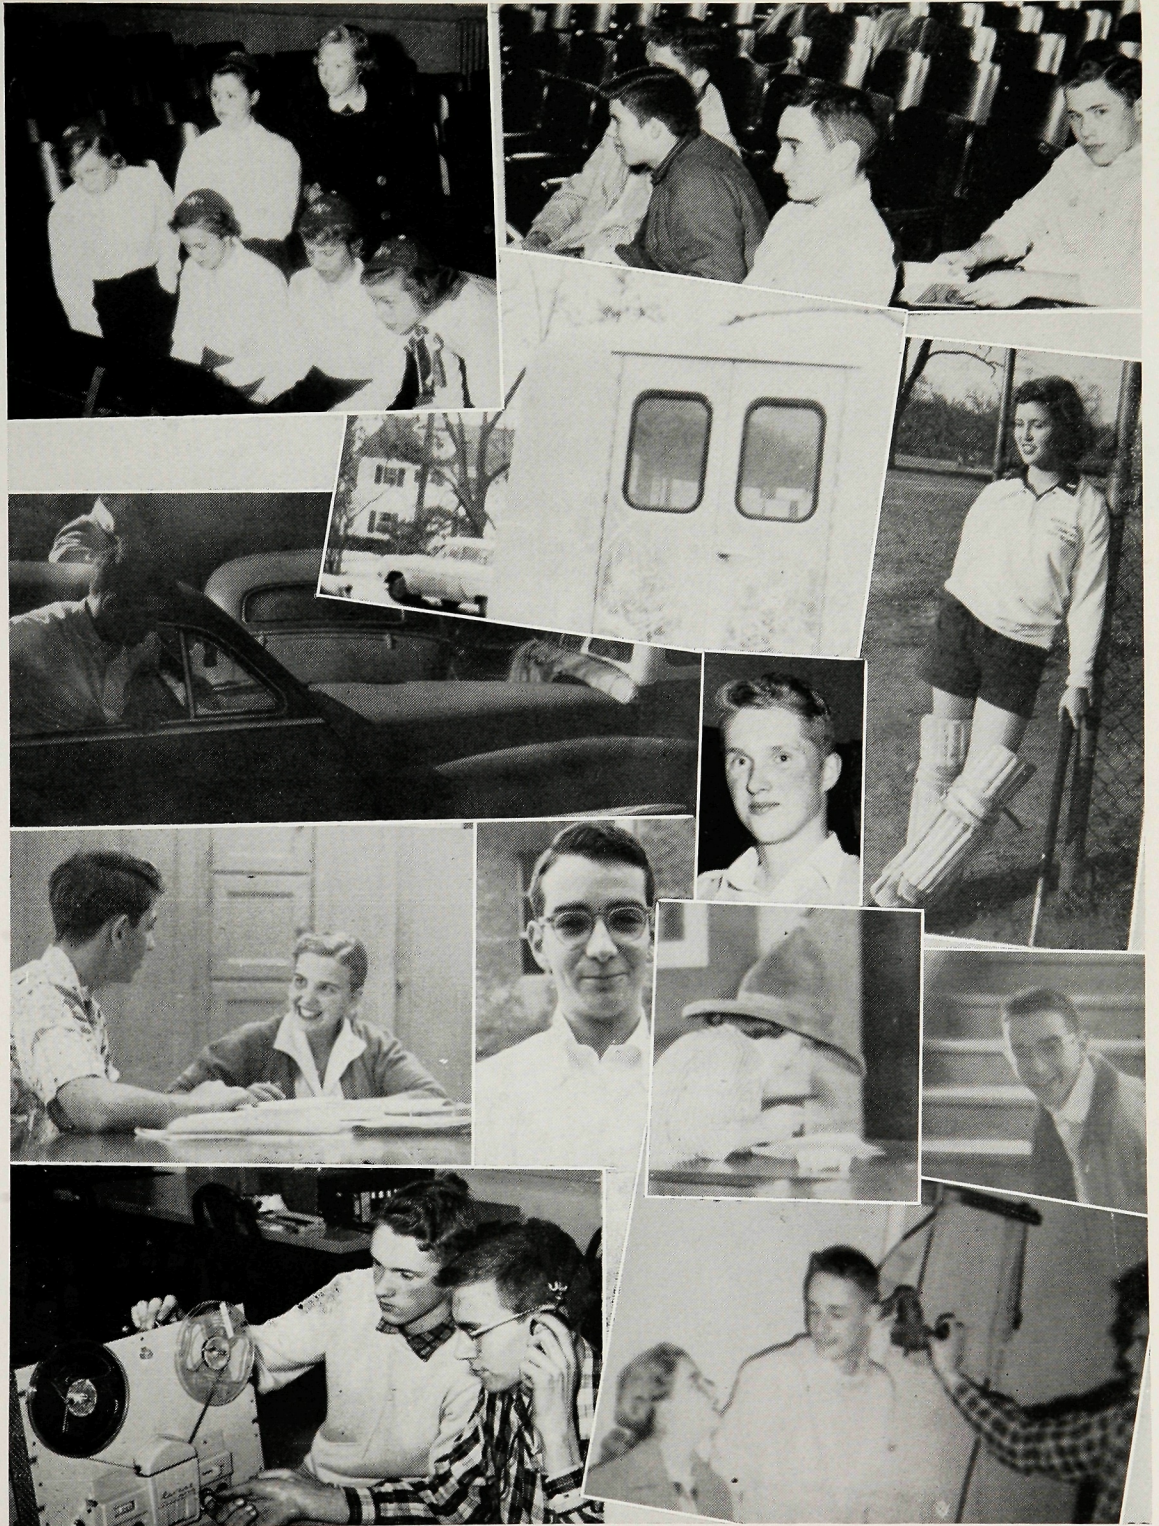

In all sports offered here at North Shore — football, hockey, basketball, baseball, golf, and tennis — the Juniors took part, and did each to their best ability.

In the Physics Lab, the class learned how to take anything apart (but also to put things back together again.) The Modern History class's Morning Exercises showed some real thought and organization. There were no Junior language whizzes this year, but maybe those squirt gun showers will prove to uncover some hidden talent. As for Math, all those 'x's and 'y's seemed like alphabet soup.

In Student Council, Athletics, Mirror, Purple and White, and Morning Ex Committee, the class has made quite a few worthwhile contributions.

Following the custom, the Junior class will give the Junior Prom this year for the Seniors. We hope that all will go well and that it will be a great success.

SOPHOMORES

Emerging gracefully from a somewhat hectic freshman year, the Sophomore Class began to establish itself as full contributor to school life. Our reputation as money-makers grew steadily as our various concessions poured money into our Junior Prom fund; we even felt plush enough to sponsor a dance in, of all places, the study hall. The "Study Hall Stomp" cleared away exam blues and gave a new tone to the study hall that lasted for weeks.

How could the opera have been such a success without the sophomores who carried six of the leads and the four who were committee chairmen? Earlier, in the Vaudeville, we brought down the house with our three acts. There were also eight A Cappella members and three in Ensemble.

Our three cheerleaders pepped up the whole school as well as the sophomores playing on teams. Sophomore boys strengthened the football, basketball, and baseball teams, while the girls were outstanding in having five hockey players and six basketball team members.

With all our money and talent we should be a class to watch out for in the future.

FRESHMAN CLASS

It did not take us long to learn and apply the traditions of the school: the girls quickly became interested in the sophomore boys, while the Freshman boys were busy breaking the window in the home-room door and maintaining the usual running battle on the second floor. Our talents were quickly recognized and put to work as we tended the fires on Work Day.

FOXY FROSH

More constructively were our contributions to Vaudeville. The boys were really "Stranded in the Jungle" after their skit, and the girls were mobbed after their dance called "The Roving Kind." Two boys put on another skit, and two girls sang and danced to the "Boy Friend." Our Christmas play was a success even though we were so busy with windows and sophomore boys.

Before spring fever and water bombs and baseballs took all our attention, the boys handled a clothing drive for the Hungarians that had the second floor looking like a shopping center for about ten days. We were active in the chorus and the committees for opera.

In sports we were again very noticeable. Three girls were on the varsity hockey team, and two boys on varsity football. Our Frosh-Soph football had a good season, winning four, losing one, and tying one. One girl was on girls' varsity basketball, while most of the boys made the Frosh-Soph basketball. We even organized a curling team.

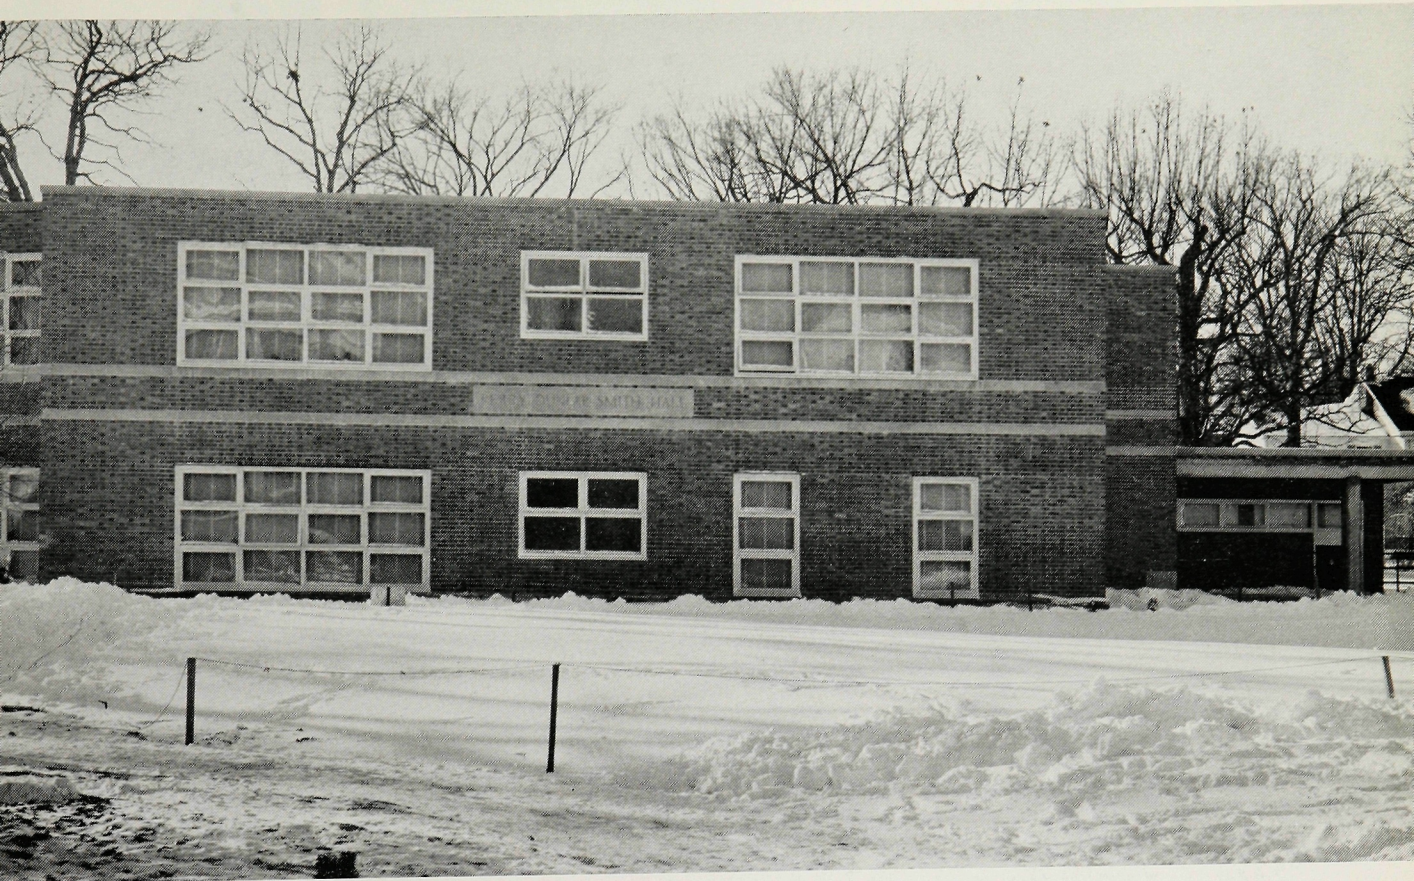

We kept as many of the Freshman traditions as we knew about; now we're ready to try all the Sophomore ones. Next year our energies can do even more to make this an interesting and lively school.

THIRD GRADE

This year the Third Grade read and acted out many of the Greek Myths. The one that seemed to be the favorite was the story of Prometheus. We also studied how the pioneers lived. Along with our study of the pioneers, we tapped some maple trees and boiled the sap until it became maple syrup.

Some of the boys were interested in snakes, and many of us were interested in prehistoric animals.

We took two trips; one to the Historial Society Museum to see the pioneer cabin and the other to Orchestra Hall to hear a concert.

We have had two student teachers from Northwestern this year: both Miss Chavkin and Miss Craig have helped us with our work.

SECOND GRADE

This year the Second Grade has enjoyed taking part in the Halloween Play and the Christmas program. We have also dramatized for the Lower School "The Three Bears," "The Silly Little Rabbit," and "The Christmas Story."

We visited the Chicago Museum of Natural History in the fall to see the exhibits relating to prehistoric animals and people. We went again in the spring to see the Eskimo and Indian exhibits. During this cold and snowy winter we built an Eskimo igloo on the field. It was too good an opportunity to miss. Later on, when we studied Indians, we built a full-sized teepee in our room.

FIRST GRADE

The First Grade has observed the changing seasons by watching for the migration of birds. In the fall we spent a number of afternoons walking around the campus, looking for robins to count and noticing how increasingly difficult it was to find them. Through the winter we have watched for the winter birds and learned to identify the few that have stayed around. We plan to welcome back the summer birds in the spring and hope to pay a visit to the museum to see how many Illinois birds we can recognize.

This is a year when all activity is directed toward the development of language facility. We have read many, many stories. The short, classic children's stories we have re-told many times. Sometimes children each choose a favorite episode from a story to tell from their "television" box. We have used a tape recorder to preserve these stories and re-hear their telling. The first few experiences with pantomime were very stilted performances, but gradually these boys and girls have developed into quite accomplished performers, and can act a whole story intelligently without use of any words. A number of these stories have been made into illustrated "comic strips" for the pleasure of other grades. These are the pictures you may have seen, mounted and with printed captions, in the hallways of the Lower School. Whether in telling, illustrating, or acting a story, these children have experienced the pleasure of passing on to each other and to other classes their own enjoyment of their exciting new skill in reading.

SENIOR KINDERGARTEN

The senior kindergarten has been very busy this year from fall to spring. During the fall we had many holidays to celebrate. We received many ideas about things to make and things to do from these holidays. At Christmas time we had a party and our parents came to the program we planned for them. Since then we have studied about animals and have learned about the post office and policemen. We also had a grocery store and learned a great deal about things there even though we had a lot of fun doing it. We had a valentine party at school and exchanged valentine cards. After spring vacation we made things and learned about Easter. We then practiced and got ready for our May Day program.

Teachers: Mrs. Jellinek, Miss Latta.

JUNIOR KINDERGARTEN

The children in the Junior kindergarten look forward eagerly to each holiday season because it means a special celebration in the room. A few days before Halloween we took a trip to Mangels where the children talked to the pumpkin man, enjoyed the harvest displays, and then received a small pumpkin to take home. At Christmas time they made presents for their parents, decorated a Christmas tree and decorated our room. The parents were then invited to a party at which the children sang their Christmas songs. Valentine Day is a time for friendship. Each child not only makes valentines for his family, but brings a valentine to every child in the room. Already we are looking forward to Easter when we will make paper baskets and dye Easter eggs.

MORNING EXERCISE COMMITTEE

This year, so we have been told, the morning exercises have been, on the whole, quite good. We have been fortunate in being able to have such guest speakers as Mr. Palm, a commercial artist; Mr. Faulkner, an authority on American Negro Folklore; Mr. Ott, speaking on Time Lapse; and Mr. Folds, speaking on Are People Modern.

The Evans Webb Marionette Theater presented Rumpelstiltskin for us early in the year. We have also been fortunate in having Dr. Zipper and his orchestra three times this year.

The students have exhibited their various talents in variety shows, quizzes, skits, hobbies, and individual morning exercises.

The morning exercise committee feels that the programs this year have been almost consistently well prepared and interesting.

THE STAGE CREW

The Stage Crew, working under the able direction of Mr. Roger (Harlen) Hill, has developed into a hard working, efficient machine. Our motto: "If you want to kill time . . . try working it to death," has been carried out to the best of our ability.

The familiar sound of crashing stage boxes, grunts and groans, orders countermanding orders, curtains opening and closing, lights going off and on, and finally a production made out of chaos is familiar to any student who dares to enter the auditorium.

The Crew's many victories over the past few months are quite impressive. Some are The Vaudeville, All the morning Ex's, Opera, and the Senior Stunts.

The Crew, which keeps in shape by playing catch with stage boxes, develops its own techniques concerning the art and drama that goes on during a production. The sets are carefully thrown down to the scene shop, curtains are slowly drawn open to make the least amount of noise, and there is never a complaint or any undo "bad" words. Yes, the Stage Crew is here to stay at North Shore, and it is looking forward to another quiet year in which it can produce chaos out of order in all the school's productions.

PATIENCE

by Gilbert and Sullivan presented by

THE NORTH SHORE COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL
March 21, 22, and 23, 1957

SYNOPSIS

The curtain goes up on the chorus of maidens who have forsaken the Dragoons for Reginald Bunthorne, a fleshly poet. Protests, however, fall on deaf ears, for Bunthorne is trying to win the affections of Patience, a dairy maid. Patience, believing love should be unselfish, has decided to give up her love for the idyllic poet Grosvenor and nobly marry Bunthorne. At this decision, the maidens return to their Dragoons momentarily before Grosvenor appears to capture their hearts anew.

By threatening a terrible curse, Bunthorne and the elderly Lady Jane force Grosvenor to give up aestheticism. Following their hero, the maidens also discard aestheticism. This turn of events enables Patience to return to her now imperfect Grosvenor, and the maidens to their military sweethearts. Bunthorne's only remaining admirer, Lady Jane, is then taken by the Duke so that "Nobody Is Bunthorne's Bride!"

THE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Christmas party started with the story of "The Night Before Christmas," which was read by Joan Palm. Then, to the delight of the younger generation, Santa Claus came in with a bound! The classes from the Senior Kindergarten through the Faculty honored Santa with various dances. While this was going on, the Kindergarten came up and told Santa what they wanted for Christmas. There were some unusual requests, such as a Chevrolet, some real guns, and an "H" Bomb. The most common requests were dolls for the girls and trains for the boys. The finale was loop-de-loo, by the Seniors and the Junior Kindergarten, in which even Santa Claus participated. Santa then left Country Day to continue his Christmas projects.

TO THE TEAM

- 1) You may wonder why the successful season;
One glance at the material will give you the reason.
Throughout the year there was no single star,
Except our coach from England afar.
- 2) Everyone on the team worked equally well,
If one was outstanding you could hardly tell.
With teamwork like this and spirit to match,
No wonder the team was so hard to catch.
- 3) We've set aside this moment, for we'd like to boast,
Of our coach, Mrs. Gould, to whom we owe the most.
She tells us to scintilate and to give it all we've got.
With a pip, pip, tally-ho, and all that rot.
- 4) To next year's captain and manager too,
(that is Judy Cranage and Susie Brew).
The best of luck to your team next year,
To you both we leave our loudest cheer.
- 5) To the team we have one last word to say,
Thanks for all the memories we'll carry away.

As you can see from the scores this year's team had a very successful season. We feel the success is attributable not only to the natural ability of every member of the team, but also to their willingness to co-operate. We want to thank everybody for her own individual spirit as well as the wonderful teamwork. We think that this year's record is a product of this teamwork (and the enthusiasm of each person) rather than any other factor.

If we were to pick one person who was outstanding on the team, we would pick our wonderful coach, Mrs. Gould. On behalf of the team we would like to express our thanks to her for her help. We would also like to extend our thanks to the team for the wonderful season they have given us.

MIDDLE SCHOOL HOCKEY

This year the Middle School girls had a hockey season that was not as good as it might have been. We won one game, and tied another, but in most of the games that we lost, the scores were very close. We played Roycemore, Lake Forst Day School, Lake Forest, Winter Club and Francis Parker. We also participated in a playday with Kildeer.

Through the Passing Years

It is with pride that once again through the medium of photography we have been able to fashion a graphic record of your school year — a pride stemming doubly from the knowledge that herein not only have we helped to create a record of so much meaning to each of you, but in so doing we have had the opportunity to share warm pleasant associations with so many.

Always, as years pass, this record will have a special place in your heart for it will be the visible token of the wonderful experience of your growing years, rich in the foundation of true and lasting friendship.

Our heartiest congratulations to all!

Cordially,
John Howell and Craftsmen

We would like to thank all of the people who so generously took their time to go around and acquire ads for the Mirror. There are so many of you who helped, that it would be impossible to name each and everyone, but without you our 1957 Mirror would not be possible.

Thank you for your time and kindness.
